Subject: Potential delivery date for consolidated FRTG report

Hi Deanna, Lori -

In an earlier conversation, you asked about the expected date for the final consolidated FRTG report. Based on the feedback from the Sub-team leaders and the expected delivery dates for their component reports, Marcia and I feel that the consolidated FRTG report will be available for release during the final week of June: that is, between June 28 - 30.

If the various Sub-team reports are finished ahead of schedule, we may be able to move this date up. If that appears to be the case, we will of course keep you all in the loop.

I do not believe this report deadline has yet been made public, and we may want to hold off on releasing it until we are fully confident the Sub-team deadlines will met.

Please let me know if you have any questions or wish to discuss further.

Mark
