We will shortly finish our calculations for the response. The press are calling many of you to find out our results. Please remember that at least some journalists come with an agenda to find controversy where none exists. I would ask that you respect the rights of your fellow team members and refrain from commenting upon what we will find for either the pre or post cut flow rates. I would also ask that you refrain, at least temporarily, from commenting on BP's activities in this process. We are still interacting with them to get necessary data for your analysis. If the press still continues to pester you, please direct them to myself or Dr. McNutt.

As a team we have come far. Lets make sure that we end on a good note.

Thanks again for your contributions to the Nation during this crisis.
