History: This message has been replied to.

Mark, Agree that Bill has other priorities, I've been advised to have him move forward on the TG tasks but the request remains as a priority.

Getting clarification so we don't waste Bill's time. I'll be in touch

Martha,

I asked Bill Lehr about this a few days ago, in relation to addressing an earlier question (I think from Laurie) about whether we experienced delays in our data requests. Bill replied that he has not pulled together anything like this, and it would take time to assemble. Given the current focus on getting his team to complete the new video analysis, it did not seem worthwhile to divert him from that. That is why we came up with a general response about having received the first usable videos on May 25, that earlier videos were "videos of videos" and not suitable for analysis, and that (bottom line) we were not aware of any intentional efforts to delay or filter our data. [I can give you the fuller version if needed]

If this is REALLY important, we can request Bill to put together a full list of request and response dates (assuming he has all that). However, I hesitate to do so because Bill is in the midst of bringing his team together this afternoon to discuss their new flow estimates; something that is clearly a very high priority.

Marcia - does this request from the USCG for a data request/response timeline trump Bill's activities with the Plume Team synthesis?

Adm Allen's press second, Tony Russell is asking for "a complete log of video requests from FRTG and what has been provided. What did you ask for and when.". Request is urgent

Mark, Do we have that info somewhere?

Catherine, you were here befor Mark and I, do you have info (emails, etc) to help respond to this request.
