Mark:

Maggie Fox, a reporter from Thomson Reuters, would like to find out more information about how the oil is behaving deep underneath the ocean at the oil spill -- see below for more details.

Does USGS have an expert/role in this? If not, that is fine and we can clarify that to Julie at DOI. If so, who is the best person for me to work with in crafting a response per Julie's recommendation below?

Thanks so much for your feedback.

Sincerely,

Is this in the purview of USGS? If so can you please draft a response and send it to me?

Thanks,

Julie
