Mark and Vic - I read your note that the FRTG work is still underway and the team is expected to work on the final report the week of July 5. But, are either the Nodal or Reservoir reports ready? Do one of you want to respond to this email?

Subject: Update on FRTG

AB,

Dr. McNutt's press release of June 10th stated that the estimates from the reservoir modeling and nodal analysis teams "will be completed later this month". Has this work been completed? If not, then what is the revised completion date and when will the results be released?

Many thanks

Regards
