Jim -

I don't know anyone who is going. I can't figure out who is organizing it. I can't find an agenda for the meeting. So I think everyone should stay away from it.

Dear

James

F,

We are sending you this urgent invitation to participate in the Gulf Oil Spill Disaster Response Summit. This major national forum is scheduled for Friday, July 9, 2010 at the New Orleans Morial Convention Center. The Summit will feature BP; key government decision-makers at the federal, state, and local levels; companies with the latest oil containment and response solutions; experts discussing the impact of the oil spill on health, jobs, and the environment; and professionals who are expediting payments of claims to BP.

Crude oil is flowing into the Gulf of Mexico at a rate estimated between 35,000 and 60,000 barrels a day from the damaged well, and BP has been able to capture only a percentage of that with its current containment methods. Your help is needed to respond to the worst environmental disaster in American history.

Attend the Summit in New Orleans on July 9 - as a public service, it's free. Consider speaking. Consider sponsorship. Consider exhibiting. Explore your solutions with residents and leaders from the Gulf Coast and throughout the United States. Please click the link below, view the invitation, and respond by clicking either the Yes or No button at the bottom of the invitation. Your response is greatly appreciated.

If you are interested in speaking, sponsorship, or exhibiting, fill out the questionnaire during the registration process, or send us an email at: summit@globaldisasterleadershipforum.org.

Summit General Session Topics include:

- * Impact of the oil spill on health, jobs, the environment, business, and tourism.
- * The most effective oil containment and response solutions.
- * The most effective oil dispersant solutions.
- * Creating and obtaining new jobs for displaced workers in the Gulf Coast.
- * Speeding payment of your BP claim.
- * Supporting base camps.
- * Emergency communications, shelter, food, water, and health solutions.
- * How to prevent the next oil spill disaster.

Summit Workshop Session Topics include:

- * How to expedite payments of claims to BP.
- * Where the new jobs are.
- * Help for small businesses.

The Summit is the second in a series of national forums designed to speed the end of the oil catastrophe. The first Summit was held on June 17 in Mobile, with 250 registered leaders, senior participation from BP, high-level participation from the EPA and numerous other federal agencies, demonstrations of oil spill containment solutions, and major media coverage.
